WRECKED REAPER — When Jeffrey D. Jackson, 22, of Mount Sterling, pulled this combine over to the right side of Cook-Yankee Road in northern Fayette County, to allow a truck to pass, the right wheels slipped into the ditch, flipping the combine over on its side. Riding on the outside of the combine at the time was Marshall Walters, 52, of Mount Sterling, who was able to see the impending danger of being crushed and jumped clear; however, Walters was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries sustained in his jump. Hospital officials stated Walters had complained of pain in his left rib area and hip area and received treatment. Investigating Fayette County Sheriff's Sgt. John Emrick and auxiliary deputy Shanty Boylan, estimated damage to the combine as moderate, but as the two wreckers labored to right it. Sgt. Emrick said the damage could be extensive. The mishap occurred at 10:35 a.m. Wednesday.

Jurors deliberating theft case in Common Pleas Court

Jury deliberation was still underway at presstime Wednesday afternoon in the trial of Benny W. Laytart, 25, of 115 Water St., charged with grand theft.

Laytart is on trial in Fayette County Common Pleas Court for the theft of a bicycle, valued at $70, from a garage at the residence of Rev. Gerald Wheat, 220 N. Hinde St. on May 26. Although the value of the bicycle is less than $150 the charge is being prosecuted as a felony since Laytart has a previous theft conviction.

The trial resumed in Common Pleas Court Wednesday morning with the defense presenting its final witness, David Laytart, brother of the defendant. The jury retired to the jury room at 10:15 following the younger Laytart's testimony, and closing arguments.

The prosecution had rested its case Tuesday afternoon following testimony of Rev. Wheat, and jailer-dispatcher Michael Taylor, Police Specialist Dennis Brown, and Sgt. Robert Massie, of the Washington C.H. Police Department.

DEFENSE COUNCIL Robert Simpson made a motion for mistrial during cross examination of Sgt. Massie when the police officer commented on Laytart's previous arrest record in response to a question concerning the reading of the defendant's rights. However, the remark was stricken and Judge Evelyn W. Coffman ordered the trial continued.

The prosecution rested its case following Sgt. Massie's testimony and Simpson then made a motion for acquittal. Simpson cited discrepancies in the testimony of Brown and Massie and contended that the prosecution had failed to prove the elements of guilt.

Judge Coffman overruled the motion noting that there was enough evidence for the jury to rule on the guilt or innocence of Laytart.

Public service jobs slated to give boost to economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford announced today he has ordered the spending of $415 million to finance 85,000 public sector jobs in state and local governments.

Ford said he will ask Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan to immediately disburse $65 million to those communities in which unemployment is highest.

By the end of the month, Ford said, another $350 million will be made available under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

Ford made the announcement to labor leaders and Senate and House members attending the second round of pre-economic summitry aimed at solving America's twin problems of inflation and recession. The session was part of a continuing series of meetings leading to the White House economic summit conference Sept. 27-28.

The President said the effect of today's actions will be to double the number of federally funded public service jobs — to 170,000 by this coming winter.

He said that in addition $1.3 billion will be available to state and local governments for manpower programs. Ford noted the unemployment rate in August was 5.4 per cent and said that

"we certainly cannot be complacent about any American lacking work" and "the present situation calls for full use of available tools and dollars."

His remarks were released in advance of delivery.

Ford emphasized there will be no controls imposed on wages and prices.

"To leaders of our labor unions, and to the captains of industry, I make a sincere appeal for restraint," said Ford. "And it must be self-imposed restraint."

"Settlements at the bargaining table are the responsibility of the participants as long as they respect the public interest."

"Cold and impersonal numbers and percentages cannot describe the impact on people's lives," Ford continued. "While everyone is hit by inflation, some are struck harder than others. I am thinking of families on low and moderate incomes, on older Americans who are struggling on modest pensions, and on young people whose experience with the employment scene may not generate real confidence in our economic system."

The President said that care must be exercised to "prevent our recently overheated economy from cooling off, too fast. We must avoid a damaging recession."

Monday afternoon and told her he had found it in the city park under the Millikan Avenue bridge. She said they cleaned the bicycle and put it on the back porch where police officers found it the following day.

Laytart was previously convicted of an auto theft charge in Municipal Court on Dec. 20, 1968.

North Carolina air crash fatal to 69

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — An Eastern Air Lines jet carrying 78 passengers and a crew of four crashed today as it approached fog-shrouded Douglas Municipal Airport here. There appeared to be only 13 survivors.

Area hospitals reported treating 13 persons, including Stewardess Collette Watson and the jet's first officer, James M. Daniels Jr, both based in Atlanta.

"We are pretty assured that is all the survivors," said William Rawlings, the airline's sales manager for the Charlotte district.

Rescue officials set up a morgue at the National Guard Armory, near the airport.

Rawlings said Eastern ground personnel were in contact with the jet moments before it crashed.

"Our Eastern people had no idea anything was wrong. Everything appeared normal. There was fog this morning but the exact cause we do not know," he said.

The plane, a DC9-30, was Eastern Flight 212, which had left Charleston, S. C., on schedule at 7 a.m. It crashed at 7:33 a.m. about two miles from the Charlotte airport.

Shattered pieces of the plane's fuselage and wings were scattered over a wide area. Rescue workers and spectators who reached the scene before police blocked all traffic in a two-mile radius said the jet appeared to have exploded after landing.

Billowing clouds of smoke were seen miles from the crash site.

Mrs. Thomas Cox, whose home is less than a mile from the crash site, said she heard the jet as it passed her house. She said there were "three big booms when it went right over our house. I never heard it (a plane) sound like that before," she said.

"They brought one person down and put him on my porch. He was pretty badly burned. He lay there for a long time," Mrs. Cox said.

John McDowell, who lives near a ravine where the plane crashed, drove his farm tractor to the scene and used it to carry five persons to safety.

McDowell said the first thing he remembered was "the tremendous column of smoke. The second thing was the screaming and yelling and crying. It was hysterical."

Ervin Melton, a rescue member of the Woodlawn Fire Department, said he found four men and a stewardess when he arrived at the crash.

Deep depression still marks Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of Richard M. Nixon's family says the former President is "in a deep depression" which was not lifted by the full, presidential pardon he received.

In addition, Nixon was said to be in physical pain from a phlebitis condition that had publicly been described as resolved last July.

This family member said that Mrs. Nixon and other relatives are worried about the condition of the ex-president.

The family member sought out a telephone interview on Tuesday night saying that "this is something someone should talk about," but asked not to be identified by name.

This person has seen and spoken with Nixon both before and since the President resigned Aug. 9 and talked with Nixon by telephone as recently as Monday night.

This family member knew of no specific physical problem other than the phlebitis, a blood clot which developed in Nixon's left leg just before his June trip to the Middle East.

"From the way reports are coming back (from Sen. Clemente, Calif.), I just feel there is something more. It bothers me," this person said.

"It is enough to worry Mrs. Nixon. The worse it would be, the less he would talk about it."

"In other words, he's obviously in pain. He's obviously concerned about his health, but he's not talking about it."

This family member said, "Emotionally he's still way down and that's what bothers me even more."

No timetable set

President studies additional pardons

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is not at present actively considering pardons for all Watergate figures, but will weigh any request for pardons which reaches his desk, House minority leader John Rhodes said today.

Rhodes and Senate minority leader Hugh Scott, R-Pa., clarified Ford's Tuesday stand on Watergate pardons after meeting for one hour and 45 minutes with the President at the White House today.

Scott read a presidential statement which he said Ford asked him to give to reporters.

In it, the President said: "The announcement yesterday by Mr. Hushen concerning a study of the entire matter of presidential clemency and pardons was prompted by inquiries to the White House press office concerning Mrs. John Dean's reported statement in reference to pardoning of her husband and similar public statements on behalf of others.

"Such a study is, of course, made for any request concerning pardon of an individual. However, no inference should be drawn as to the outcome of such study in any case. Nor is my pardon of the former president, under the unique circumstances stated by me in granting it, related to any case which is or may be under study."

As disclosure of Ford's consideration of possible pardons for all Watergate figures drew a tidal wave of criticism, White House counsel Philip W. Buchen declined to set a timetable for a final decision by the President.

Buchen indicated Ford's study may not be completed by the scheduled Sept. 30 start of the trial of six former aides and associates of Richard M. Nixon on charges stemming from the Watergate cover-up.

Buchen rejected a reporter's suggestion that disclosure of the pardon study intruded on the judicial process and threatened the defendants' right to a fair trial.

"I don't think so," he said, because it is well known that a president can pardon anyone at any time.

Lawyers for the six defendants conferred for nearly two hours Tuesday to discuss a joint strategy in view of Ford's controversial unconditional pardon of Nixon on Sunday.

The defense lawyers were elated at the disclosure by acting White House press secretary John Hushen that Ford has "the entire matter ... now under study."

Critics blast pardons

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time this week, the issue of presidential pardon for Watergate has sent waves of criticism crashing over Gerald R. Ford's White House.

Ford on Tuesday authorized a spokesman to announce that the President was considering pardons for everyone connected with the Watergate scandal.

The resulting adverse reaction from Congress exceeded in intensity the largely negative response that greeted Ford's pardon on Sunday of former President Richard M. Nixon. Some public figures who had supported the Nixon pardon declined to comment on the news that Ford now was pondering blanket pardons.

"I hope this will get no further than a study," said Senate Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia. "Making a second mistake won't help

But prosecutors voiced dismay at the White House disclosure, as did dozens of members of Congress.

"Pardoning all those connected with Watergate would complete the cover-up of the cover-up," objected Senate Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia.

House GOP leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona, who conferred with Ford on Tuesday, said he agrees with the pardon for Nixon but "it does not necessarily follow that a similar pardon should be issued to those individuals under the former president who participated in criminal activity."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., who headed a Senate committee investigation of the Watergate scandal, said: "I can't imagine that he could possibly make such a mockery of the principle of equal justice under law by pardoning these men who undertook to steal from the American people their right to a free election...."

House Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma said such pardons would "be viewed as an abuse of presidential power."

"Where would he stop?" asked

Boston school boycott seen after integration decision

BOSTON (AP) — Thousands of white parents are expected to keep their children home on Thursday when Boston public schools open under a court-ordered integration plan which requires the busing of 18,200 pupils.

Even the parents of pupils who are not scheduled to be bused say they will keep their children out of school in sympathy for those who are. Officials say some schools will be virtually empty.

Fran Johnnene, one of the boycott leaders, predicts that about 40 per cent of Boston's 94,000 public school pupils will skip first-day classes. Other anti-busing spokesmen, such as City Councilor Thomas P. O'Neil, predict an even higher figure.

The integration plan was ordered by U.S. District Court Judge W. Arthur Garrity. He said the city's schools were segregated both through housing patterns and official manipulation. Of the total number of pupils to be bused, 8,500 are white and 9,700 are black.

Violent opposition to busing by many parents manifested itself on Monday when Sen. Edward M. Kennedy was booed and splattered with a tomato when he attempted to speak to an angry crowd of some 8,000 to 10,000 demonstrators in front of Boston's federal building.

The Home and School Association, similar to the Parent-Teacher Association, has led the drive to thwart the integration plan. Its strategy is to arouse enough opposition to force officials to give up on integration.

Boycott organizers have asked parents to keep their children out of school for at least two weeks. They say they will map further plans after that.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has threatened legal action to enforce truancy laws if there is widespread absenteeism.

U.S. reviews Cuba policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indirect signals from Havana that Fidel Castro may be interested in talking with the United States have inspired the Ford administration to begin an extensive review of U.S. policy toward the Caribbean island.

The Cuban premier is thought to be more receptive to a dialogue with Washington in order not to remain totally dependent on the Soviet Union, which supplies his regime with some $1 million a day in aid.

The feelers are being conveyed sometimes through the occasional American visitors to Cuba and also by a less hostile posture generally by Cuba toward the United States.

Although no firm decision is imminent, the policy review could eventually lead to a reversal of the U.S. effort to isolate Cuba from the rest of the hemisphere.

The United States broke relations with Cuba in 1961, imposed a trade embargo in 1962, and joined with all other hemisphere nations except Mexico in 1964 in trying to isolate Cuba both diplomatically and economically.

However, six nations have since repaired relations with Havana. Panama has announced its intention to follow suit, and Colombia, Costa Rica and Venezuela have asked the Organization of American States to convene foreign ministers in Quito, Ecuador, in November to consider a reversal of the embargo.

At this point, Cuba seems to prefer reopening direct channels with Washington to re-entering hemisphere councils, including the Organization of American States.

If these talks develop, they could consider such topics as lifting travel restrictions that prevent most Americans from traveling to Cuba, trade barriers that also limit other countries which deal with Havana, or even an exchange of diplomats.

Since many of these anti-Cuban measures were written into the law, the administration would need Congressional support to accomplish a policy reversal.

Deaths, Funerals

MISS RUTHIE TAYLOR — Services for Mrs. Ruthie Taylor, 41, of Wilmington, were held at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, with the Rev. Everett Gardner, of Xenia, officiating. Mrs. Walter Stackhouse played the organ.

Miss Taylor died Saturday. Pallbearers for the burial in Mount Joy Cemetery, Scioto County, were Marvin Dawson, Jack, James, James Jr., and Wayne Tagg, Donald McDermott and Robert Taylor.

Pardons rapped

Rhodes of Arizona, who said he supports the Nixon pardon but "it does not necessarily follow that a similar pardon should be issued to those individuals under the former president who participated in criminal activity."

Two Watergate principals had differing reactions.

Convicted Watergate burglar Frank Stugis said, "I think it would be a wonderful thing. I don't feel like being a criminal all my life." Sturgis has served time for the burglary and now is free on appeal.

A more subdued response came from John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's former domestic affairs aide and one of the cover-up defendants.

He said that the problem with a pardon "is that when you know you're innocent, it precludes the possibility that your innocence will be established finally." He would not say flatly whether he would not nonetheless welcome a pardon.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Watergate committee, declared: "I can't imagine that he (Ford) could possibly make such a mockery of the principle of equal justice under law by pardoning these men who undertook to steal from the American people their right to a free election and to undermine the process by which presidents are chosen."

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said he will introduce a constitutional amendment allowing Congress to overturn future presidential pardons by a two-thirds vote of both houses. He also called for serious consideration in Congress of reopening the impeachment proceedings against Nixon.

More pardons

Albert. "Would it mean that all politicians in trouble would be pardoned?"

Former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman, a defendant in the cover-up trial, would not say flatly whether he would accept or reject a pardon.

"The problem ... is that when you know you're innocent," Ehrlichman said, a pardon "precludes the possibility that your innocence will be established finally."

All together, 48 individuals have been accused of what are broadly termed Watergate crimes and 39 of these have pleaded guilty or been convicted. Some have served prison sentences, others are now in prison and still others are free on appeal.

Friedheim quits Pentagon post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jerry W. Friedheim, the spokesman for the Pentagon during most of the Vietnam war, is resigning.

Friedheim, who had been assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, frequently was called on to defend the Southeast Asian military policies of President Nixon's administration. He joined the Defense Department in 1969.

Officials said Friedheim will become vice president for government affairs of Amtrak, the public corporation which operates the nation's passenger rail lines.

Deputy recovers abandoned truck

A 1970 GMC pickup truck, abandoned on Ohio 41, north of the Inskip Road intersection, has been recovered by Fayette County Sheriff's Deputy Don Cox.

Fayette County Sheriff Donald L. Thompson reported the truck recovered on Aug. 26 and explained through further investigation in cooperation with the Greene County Sheriff's Department it was found to have been stolen from the Cedarville Limestone Co., of Cedarville, and owned by James A. Poston, of Grove City.

Investigation is continuing.

He died Tuesday after a brief illness. He was 65. The body will lie in state at St. Robert Bellarmine Chapel on the campus Thursday.

Father O'Connor, widely renowned educator and civic leader, stepped down in 1972 as president after 17 years, blaming ill health.

Few upsets seen in primaries

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

AP Political Writer

Rep. Hugh L. Carey scored a smashing victory in New York's Democratic primary for governor, while nine governors and five senators won easy renomination in the last big round of primaries to pick candidates for the Nov. 5 elections.

Although Tuesday was generally a good day for incumbents, three congressmen were defeated: Democrats Bertram L. Podell of New York, who goes on trial for perjury today, and Robert O. Tiernan of Rhode Island, and veteran Republican Glenn R. Davis of Wisconsin.

In the major races in 13 states and the District of Columbia, however, there were few upsets.

Nixon could get doubled funding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration proposes to combine the benefits of two separate laws in order to provide Richard M. Nixon more than twice the funds former President Lyndon B. Johnson received for his period of transition to private life, government records show.

General Services Administrator Arthur F. Sampson is to defend the $850,000 Nixon budget proposal before a Senate appropriations panel today.

GSA figures obtained from congressional sources show that the Nixon budget for his first 10 months out of office compares with a total of $1.1 million spent for Johnson, his immediate predecessor, during the four years Johnson lived after retiring as president.

Of that total, Johnson received about $370,000 for transition expenses and $37,000 in pension funds during his first 17 months out of office. The presidential pension has since been increased to $60,000 annually.

The Nixon proposal, worked out by Nixon aides and Sampson in unannounced meeting in San Clemente, Calif., immediately after the resignation, would take full advantage of both the Former Presidents Act of 1958 and the Presidential Transition Act of 1963.

The Transition Act provides a former president with up to $450,000 for office, staff and other benefits during his first six months out of office. The Former Presidents Act provides for a pension, to begin immediately after a president

In Maryland, former state Sen. Louise Gore scored an unexpected victory in the Republican primary for governor over Rep. Lawrence W. Hogan, the first GOP member of the House Judiciary Committee to support impeachment of former President Richard M. Nixon.

Miss Gore will be a distinct underdog in November against Democratic Gov. Marvin Mandel, who easily won renomination. Other Democratic governors who won renomination were Reubin Askew of Florida, Wendell R. Anderson of Minnesota, Patrick J. Lucey of Wisconsin and Thomas P. Salmon of Vermont.

Also victorious were four republican leaves office, plus up to $96,000 for staff salaries and "suitable office space, appropriately equipped" to begin at the end of the transition period.

A Justice Department memorandum prepared at Sampson's request indicates that Nixon is not eligible for full benefits under both laws at the same time.

The Nixon proposal, however, would extend the transition period from six months to more than 10 months, ending on June 30, 1975, the end of the current fiscal year. At the same time, Nixon would be receiving $400,000 in pension, staff salaries and other benefits under the Former Presidents Act.

A GSA spokesman cited the Johnson transition as a precedent, noting that he was the only president to receive the benefits of both acts and pointing out that he extended his transition period from six months to 17 months.

But GSA documents show that Johnson received only his pension and Transition Act funds during that 17-month period and didn't begin getting staff and office money under the Former Presidents Act until the transition ended.

Calculations based on the GSA figures show that Johnson received an average of about $31,000 a month during the transition period and about $17,000 a month after that. This compares with $85,000 a month Nixon would receive during his first 10 months and $33,000 a month after that if his level of spending under the Former Presidents Act remained stable.

Prosecution pushes case on Chenault

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The prosecution calls additional witnesses today in its effort to prove that Marcus Wayne Chenault "had a preconceived plan of destruction" last June when Mrs. Martin Luther King Sr. was shot to death.

At least four witnesses, including Mrs. King's grandson, have testified they saw the boyish-looking Chenault deliberately shoot Mrs. King, 70, during Sunday services at Ebenezer Baptist Church.

Chenault, 23, of Dayton, Ohio, is in the third day of his Superior Court trial on murder charges in the slaying of Mrs. King and a church deacon, Edward Boykin, and the wounding of a woman parishioner.

The diminutive black man has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

His court-appointed attorneys, one white and one black, claim Chenault was "obsessed with hatred — hatred of black leaders, white people" and felt he was "ordained by God to come down and commit these acts."

The prosecution contends Chenault deliberately planned to kill Mrs. King, mother of the late civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Derek King, 20, testified on Tuesday he heard his grandmother scream and slump over as she played the organ and that Chenault then "shot her again while she was on the floor."

The youth, eldest of the Kings' 11 grandchildren, testified in a calm voice about the shooting. His mother, Mrs. A. D. King, was the only member of the King family in the courtroom during his testimony.

The youth said that he struggled with Chenault when the stranger began reloading his gun.

A pistol King testified he took away from Chenault was introduced as evidence.

He said he also saw Chenault shoot Boykin.

Glenn spends $320,620

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John Glenn, the Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate, has spent $320,720 so far in his general election campaign, a report filed Tuesday with the secretary of state shows.

The report listed receipts of $335,836. It covered the period from May 31 to Sept. 1.

The "Citizens for John Glenn" committee said it has a current debt of $254,109—compared with obligations May 31 of $200,000.

A campaign spokesman said much of its primary election debt has been repaid, and that the current debt represents expenses for the general election.

state executives, Govs. Francis W. Sargent of Massachusetts, Meldrim Thomson Jr. of New Hampshire, John Vanderhoof of Colorado and Malcolm Wilson of New York.

Wilson was unopposed for nomination to a full term in the post he assumed when Nelson A. Rockefeller resigned last December.

The only incumbent senator with primary opposition, Republican Charles McC. Mathias Jr. of Maryland, easily won renomination.

And Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo. and Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., were all unopposed for nominations to new six-year terms.

In the District of Columbia, which is electing its mayor for the first time this year, appointed Mayor Walter Washington led the Democratic primary over attorney Clifford L. Alexander Jr. The Democratic primary winner will be heavily favored in November.

In New York, where Rockefeller led the Republicans to four straight gubernatorial victories, Carey had strong labor backing as he easily defeated former offtrack betting boss Howard J. Samuels.

Samuels lost his fourth bid for governor despite backing of both the state Democratic organization and many party reform leaders in a primary that saw Democrats reject all major candidates chosen at a party convention last June.

They chose a woman, state Sen. Mary Anne Krupsak of upstate Canajoharie, as Carey's running mate for lieutenant governor and gave the party's Senate nomination against Javits to former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, a transplanted Texan running on a platform of political reform.

Here are other primary results, by states:

—FLORIDA: Askew swamped three opponents, winning some 75 per cent of the vote. His November opponent is Republican Jerry Thomas, a conservative former Democrat. In the Senate race, millionaire drugstore owner Jack Eckerd defeated Public Service Commissioner Paula Hawkins for the Republican nomination to succeed Sen. Edward J. Gurney, who chose to retire after his federal indictment on charges of bribery, conspiracy and perjury.

Rep. Bill Gunter led the 11-candidate Democratic field. He faces an Oct. 1 runoff against Secretary of State Richard Stone.

—MASSACHUSETTS: Sargent easily defeated his conservative rival, Carroll P. Sheehan. Former state Rep. Michael S. Dukakis won the Democratic primary over state Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn. In an upset, veteran Secretary of State John F.X. Davoren was ousted by a Democratic reformer, state Rep. Paul H. Guzzi.

—MARYLAND: Mathias routed perennial candidate Ross Z. Pierpont and will run in November against Baltimore Councilwoman Barbara Mikulski, the winner of an 11-candidate Democratic race.

—COLORADO: Vanderhoof, who became governor when John A. Love resigned last year to become federal energy chief, defeated Denver millionaire Bill Daniels. State Rep. Richard Lamm, who led opposition to holding the 1976 Winter Olympics in Denver, won the Democratic nomination. Dominick will be opposed in November by Gary Hart, George McGovern's 1972 campaign manager and victor over two Democratic rivals.

—NEW HAMPSHIRE: Thomson, a conservative, won renomination over a Republican moderate, State Senate President David L. Nixon. The Democratic primary was won by former State Sen. Richard Leonard. In the race to succeed retiring Republican Sen. Norris Cotton, Rep. Louis C. Wyman easily won the GOP primary and will face Democrat John A. Durkin, former state insurance commissioner.

—VERMONT: Salmon, an easy winner, will face House Speaker Walter L. Kennedy, who defeated two GOP rivals. In the race to succeed retiring Sen. George D. Aiken, the Senate's senior Republican, Rep. Richard W. Mallary defeated former Federal Power Commissioner Charles Ross in the GOP primary. Patrick J. Leahy, state's attorney of Chittenden County, won the Democratic nomination.

—CONNECTICUT: Former Assembly Speaker William Ratchford and consumer advocate Toby Moffett won the Democratic congressional nominations in the 5th and 6th Districts.

—UTAH: Democrat Alan Howe and Republican Stephen Harsmen won nominations for the 2nd District seat of Rep. Wayne Owens, who is the Democratic nominee for the Senate. Ron Inkley won the GOP nomination to oppose Democratic Rep. K. Gunn McKay in the 1st District.

—WISCONSIN: Lucey, winner over a single foe, will be opposed in November by Republican William Dyke, former mayor of Madison. Nelson will run against state Sen. Thomas E. Petri, winner Tuesday over taken opposition. Davis, 59, lost to state Sen. Robert W. Kasten, 32, in the suburban Milwaukee district.

—MINNESOTA: Anderson, an easy primary winner, will seek a second term in November against Republican state Rep. John W. Johnson, unopposed Tuesday. In the major race Tuesday, James Oberstar, top aide to retiring Rep. John A. Blatnik, was nominated in the 8th District over state Sen. A.J. (Tony) Perpich, brother of Lt. Gov. Rudy Perpich.

—ARIZONA: Democrat Raul Castro, who narrowly lost in 1970, and Republican Russell Williams were nominated for the governorship being surrendered by Republican Gov. John R. Williams. Goldwater's November rival will be Scottsdale newspaper publisher Jonathan Marshall.

RHODE ISLAND: Tiernan was edged by freshman state Rep. Edward P. Beard.

Drug raid nets 125

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Mexican-based machines that produce illegal amphetamines and the persons accused of peddling the pills in this country were captives or targets today of a blitzkrieg by federal narcotics agents.

Indictments returned by federal grand juries in 10 U.S. cities were opened at 12:01 a.m. EDT, the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) said. They named 125 suspects — most described as middleclass and in their 20s.

By 4 a.m. EDT today, 97 persons had been arrested in the United States and 25 in Mexico, an agent at the command center here said. More were expected in custody by later in the day.

Mexican authorities had no comment on their role in the probe.

"We're going to take out all the major people involved in this conspiracy," a DEA spokesman said.

Opinion And Comment

Boost for women's lib

It was pleasing, though not surprising, to see how well the two female members of the House Judiciary Committee acquitted themselves in the impeachment debate. Their performance did much to set to rest any lingering male chauvinistic thoughts about the natural superiority of men in politics.

Both Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman of New York and Rep. Barbara Jordan had evidently done their homework.

Each spoke incisively and to the point when her turn came. They did more for the women's liberation movement in those few days than a baker's dozen of strident bra burners.

A WORD EDGEWISE By John P. Roche

Prologue to Demo disaster

There has been a lot of comment about the paradox of the Democrats seeming to have tremendous strength in state and Congressional elections, but being a bad bet to win the White House in 1976. (This was highlighted by Ben Wattenberg's comment that Watergate left the Democratic Party a shambles.) What has not been sufficiently emphasized is that precisely the factors that give the Democrats their grass (and asphalt) roots clout are those that are missing from the Presidential sweepstakes.

To put it differently, the reason the Democrats are so strong in Congress and the states is that there is no such thing as a national Democratic Party. True, there is a Democratic National Committee, which in recent years has seemed to be suffering from a death wish. It's been busily working to establish a national Democratic Party complete with a Charter to which, presumably, all legitimate Democratic candidates must take a loyalty oath.

Thus, ironically, just as the long-revered British party system is going down the tubes, American ideologues are engaged in trying to set it up here. For a quarter of a century I have been fighting this concept (and some good friends such as James MacGregor Burns) on the ground — set forth in "The Dynamics of Democratic Government" (1952) — that if we had the parliamentary system in the United States the result would be fragmentation. (In the 1952 context I suggested we would get France, not Britain.)

Perhaps it is a form of arrogance (if so, I apologize in advance), but I can't see how otherwise intelligent men and women can think that this huge, diverse, semi-anarchist nation can be run by rigid political institutions. Who in the world, for example, has the right to tell Senator Mike Mansfield how he must vote on gun control? Under the First Amendment, of course, anybody has the right to give Mansfield advice, but he is not elected by a Common Cause mail ballot — the good citizens of Montana handle that assignment. If Mansfield, or his Idaho neighbor Frank Church, went home to run and, pinned on gun control, said, "Well, I didn't want to vote for it, but you understand it's in the Democratic Party Charter," they would be laughed out of office.

The odd thing about the characters who are the most fervid advocates of a Charter is their implicit assumption that they are going to write it. When, at the preliminaries for an upcoming Democratic bloodbath known as the Mini-Convention, the labor and centrist forces in the session managed quite legally to get control, the dedicated ideologues walked out. In the event, however, that these ideologues yet gain control — as they did at the Democratic Nominating Convention in 1972 — there will be no higher virtue than party loyalty. I was amused, for example, to hear characters who in 1969 announced to the heavens that there was no difference between Hubert Humphrey and Richard Nixon, suddenly sounding like Jim Farley.

But to return to the main argument, the Democratic Party needs a Charter like Florida needs a hard frost. Putting aside my theoretical disdain for the notion, the hard fact is that the whole Charter exercise is a divisive waste of time. Even if it gets written, and no matter who wins the right to be scribe, it will be a horse dead at the post. Nobody in Democratic politics is going to pay the slightest attention to it. Candidates are going to follow the practice initiated in 1788 of running on platforms tailored to their constituencies. If any Charter interferes with this sensible approach, so much the worse for the Charter. Thus liberals will come back from liberal districts, conservatives from conservative areas, and middle-of-the-roadsers from the great bulk of constituencies that fall between the two poles.

However, at the national level — where once every four years the diverse Democratic tribes gather to nominate a Presidential ticket — the Charter is real bad news. (Again, the ideological thrust is irrelevant: a Charter written by George Meany would be as troublesome as one prepared by Bella Abzug.) Getting elected President is not equivalent to entering religious orders — you need a lot of room for maneuver. Starting out with a Charter, a formal statement of Democratic Truth, nailed to your mast is an ideal prologue to disaster. Not because politics is immoral, but because political morality cannot be enshrined on a Tibetan prayer wheel. As Father Drinan's support for the military-industrial complex — Middle East Division — indicates, flexibility is essential.

Neither fear to step into a new or changed picture, nor step in before you are ready. Know your ground sufficiently and the views of associates, too.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

If it will help to clear up a situation in sensible fashion, don't turn down any feasible suggestion. But discriminate between the astute and the rash.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a keenly analytical mind, unusual resourcefulness and an engaging personality. Your versatility is outstanding, too, and there are many fields in which, properly trained, of course, you could carve out a highly successful career. You would make a brilliant scientist, inventor or lawyer or, in the arts, could excel as a writer or dramatist. In fact, where the theater is concerned, you could shine in almost any of its branches—as actor, director, producer or, superbly, as a critic. Your humanitarian impulses often lead you to take up "causes" and, in this field, your gifts for organization and promoting, would make your services invaluable. You are an excellent worker, always forthright and trustworthy; are not always as tolerant as you might be, however.

'Wild Bill' heads home

YANKTON, S.D. (AP) — William Mowery, who says he reckons the days of the saddle tramp aren't quite over, is riding his horse Thunder home to Republic, Ohio, to visit his folks.

Mowery, who recently left Gregory, S.D., said with a grin that people call him "Wild Bill."

Mowery said he is taking the ride easy and plans to work his way east, stopping for jobs to replenish his money and to buy grain for his horse.

While riding, he can make about 50 miles per day, but he admits that is a bit hard on Thunder.

"I figure it will take about two and a half months to get back to Ohio," he said, adding that he started the trip with $59.

Mowery said he trained Thunder himself. "He was a hard one to break, but he's trained to do anything a cowboy should do," Mowery said. "He didn't even spook when he stepped over a rattle snake out at Fort Randall (Dam)."

He said he has not seen his parents in nearly three years. He came "west" in 1967 and has been working on ranches in the Winner area since.

"My dad told me Ohio wasn't the place for me," Mowery said, adding that he is taking over where his father left off. "He lost a horse out in Utah riding east," Mowery said. "I figured I'd take up where he left off."

Ohio Perspective

Food prices to rise

By KEN DAVIS
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The news from Ohio's vast vegetable fields is mixed, ranging from not-so-good through not-too-bad to too-good-to-be-true, but it all adds up to bad news for the consumer.

Food prices are a cinch to go up. "If they think they've seen high prices," said extension agent Glenn Maddy of Fremont, "they haven't seen anything yet."

Here's what he meant: Tomatoes for canning are selling for 45 per cent more than a year ago. Cucumbers for pickles shot up 75 per cent in price this year.

Cabbage for kraut, even with a last-minute bumper yield, figures to move up another $6 a ton. And, Ohio refineries are paying 262 per cent more for sugar beets this year than last.

"I figure the tomato crop has been cut about 20 per cent by the dry weather," said Maddy, whose Sandusky County annually ranks either No. 1 or No. 2 among Ohio counties in growing tomatoes. "The average looks like about 18 tons an acre."

Normal yield would be about 22 tons an acre. Maddy emphasized that conditions remained spotty even with the August rains and horror stories about the tomato crop abound. David Urnston, deputy state director of agriculture, reported hearing that in some areas where processors counted on three tomatoes to fill a No. 303 can last year they're talking about nine this year.

"The fruit is small, but the solids content is very good," said Eugene C. Wittmeyer, Ohio State University professor of horticulture.

Tomato growing is big business in Ohio, which ranks No. 3 nationally with 25,000 acres. Last year's processing tomatoes sold for $45 a ton. This year the price is $75.

Early cucumbers, growers reported, showed a good yield, but lack of rain cut the overall crop about 25 per cent in the late summer, Maddy estimated. He figured the dollar yield per acre was up some 75 per cent, with cucumbers for pickles selling at around $140 a ton.

Cabbage, just about written off in Sandusky County early in August, now is yielding an estimated 28 to 30 tons an acre after the late rains, up about 80 to 100 per cent above last year.

Ohio's three sugar refineries, said Maddy, are paying about $36.50 a hundredweight for sugar beets this fall, compared to $13.90 a year ago.

The refineries are reporting yields ranging from 15 to between 19 and 20 tons an acre.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Second husband wills everything to ingrates

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for nearly two years. This is the second marriage for both of us. I was a widow with very little money, and he was a widower with quite a lot. We both have married children.

He just told me that he is leaving everything he has to his children. I get nothing. His children practically ignore him. They are just waiting for him to die. On the few occasions when he sees them, they show him no respect or consideration at all. My children treat him much nicer than his own do.

I am not a rich woman, but I made out a will to leave three-fourths of everything I have to my children and one-fourth to him. Should I change my will and leave my children everything?

He is 70, overweight and has high blood pressure. If he dies first and leaves me nothing, I will have to eat up my capital, and I am afraid I won't have enough to bury him. What should I do?

REMAINING ANONYMOUS

DEAR REMAINING: Leave everything to your children. If he dies first, his children will be only too happy to bury him.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I and our infant daughter recently moved into a new home. A friendly neighbor told me that if I needed a sitter, her 16-year-old daughter, Mary, was available. Last evening I hired Mary from 8 p.m. until 10:30 p.m.

When I left, the baby was asleep, so that all Mary had to do was sit. I instructed her NOT to accept any collect calls because my husband was out of town and the call would be wasted. I told her to help herself to a soft drink and some cookies if she wanted a snack. She said, "No thanks, I'm on a diet." (I believed her because she is terribly overweight.)

When I got home, Mary said, "Oh, your husband called. I forgot and accepted the call."

After she left, I noticed that my drawers had been rummaged through and that a whole month's supply of birth control pills was missing! Later, I found two empty spaghetti cans and the carton from a half gallon of ice cream in the trash.

My question: Should I tell Mary's mother? That little sneak needs to be punished. My husband says to skip it.

UNDECIDED
DEAR UNDECIDED: Tell her mother. But not so she'll punish her daughter. (The last thing Mary needs is more punishment: she's already brutally punishing herself!) The girl obviously has some serious emotional problems which desperately require professional treatment. It would be kind of you to urge that mother to get her daughter into therapy. My question: If she were YOUR daughter, wouldn't you want to know?

DEAR ABBY: Is there anything really improper about a single female walking into a top-notch restaurant to lunch or dine alone, aside from the fact that it takes a certain amount of nerve to do so?

I am a lover of good food, and don't always have an escort to take me where I'd like to dine. However, I wouldn't want to look like I'm trying to pick up someone because I came in alone.

What say you?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Quit wondering and treat yourself to a lunch or dinner wherever you can afford to go. As long as you mind your own business, you need not to worry about giving anyone the wrong impression.

Urge voter check on balloting lists

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Hamilton County Board of Elections is urging all voters to check their records posted at polling places this November to make sure they are not about to be incorrectly dropped from voting lists.

Claude Hill, elections administrator, told the board Tuesday that a mistake in programming the master computer may eliminate the names of 120,000 voters if they fail to vote in the upcoming election.

Hill said the computer failed to record some primary votes.

Hill said the mistake will not affect the eligibility of citizens to vote in November.

Money Does Matter . . .

By Madeline Ebert

The Odds Are Against You, If . . .

Consider your worldly goods, some of which likely represent many years of hard work on your part - others probably handed down to you through generations of your family, or are, perhaps, the gifts of friends.

Face it: the odds are 60 per cent against your making the decision as to who gets what when you're gone.

You'd be fighting mad if a stranger told you that you MUST give your property to a stranger, sell your estate and whatever so that the proceeds can be divided among certain relatives, or turned over to the government.

At your death the odds are 6 to 4 that this can happen in your case - just about absolutely certain if you die intestate - that is without a will.

If you do not make a will, then State laws and strangers will do the job for you - they will decide who gets "what", and "when", and "if", little as you may have.

Better get a good, valid will, and make your own decisions - dispose of things the way YOU wish. Talk to your Banker, and see a good lawyer - you'll need one. However, the cost is usually nominal.

The paramedical-type training will enable Mrs. Vrettos to detect some of the early signs of childhood disorder so that she can refer children to physicians for further examination.

AFTER undergoing three weeks of preliminary instruction, she will work closely with Dr. Robert A. Heiny to obtain practical training. She will then return to University Hospital for further work.

The objective of the program is to offer paramedical examination to some families who would not be able to afford regular medical examinations by physicians.

The only other major action taken by the board was to grant a variance to the new sewage requirements for a Jeffersonville church.

Good luck to Washington and Miami Trace football teams and bands on winning performances at their season openers.

Urban leaders eye woes of cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With an eye on the nation's 200th birthday, national urban leaders meeting here have drawn up a series of objectives for solving the ills of cities.

At the top of the list is establishing a positive relationship with the new administration in Washington, and developing a national policy to deal with the problems of housing, education, employment and transportation facing the cities in the 1970s.

The priorities were discussed at a two-day seminar sponsored by the Kettering Foundation and the Academy for Contemporary Affairs. Forty-five business, government and industry leaders took part.

The basis for the conference was a 2½-month survey of urban policies in the 1960s conducted by the Center for Responsive Technology in Washington, D.C.

Willis B. Goldbeck, CRT executive vice president, outlined the results of the survey of 100 national urban policy organizations for conference participants.

The organizations contacted in the study said relief for urban problems was set back during the Nixon administration by inflation, funding cuts, a lack of leadership and apparent lack of commitment to minority causes.

Co-chairpersons of the conference were Dr. Robert Wood, president of the University of Massachusetts and Mary Scranton, wife of the former Pennsylvania governor. Mrs. Scranton has been active in housing and redevelopment programs in Scranton, Pa. Wood was undersecretary of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development in the administration of Lyndon Johnson.

Organizations taking part in the seminar vowed to work on an individual and joint basis to encourage reforms at all levels of government.

Recommendations suggested by the participants included:

—Development of quality education.
—Improving urban policy making machinery.

—Making citizen participation effective and productive in revising each community's goals.

—Developing incentives for rehabilitation of housing, and housing maintenance.

—Making full use of existing urban systems, and provide for a mechanism to evaluate government services.

—Developing a multi-modal transportation system.

The conference, which ended Tuesday, is the first step in a long-range program expected to last until 1976.

Groups taking part in the seminar included the Urban League, National Center for Urban Ethnic Affairs, the National Conference of Mayors, and the National Alliance of Businessmen.

D of 1812 luncheon held at Terrace Lounge

On Monday a luncheon was held at the Terrace Lounge to open the year 1974-75 for the Major Samuel Myers Chapter, Daughters of 1812.

After lunch, the meeting was opened in ritualistic form by the president, Mrs. Walter Parrett. She was assisted by chaplain Mrs. Gerrie Spragg. Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Harold Slagle, and the Treasurer, Mrs. Byron Hinton. The Pledge of Allegiance, the Salute to the Flag of 1812, and The American Creed were led by Mrs. John Sagar Sr.

Mrs. Millard Weidinger introduced Miss Brenda Gaskins of Sabina soloist, and her accompanist, Mrs. Walter Stackhouse. Miss Gaskins delighted all those present with three selections, "What a Wonderful World", "Try Me Lord" and "Let There Be Peace".

Three state officers were present: Mrs. George E. Steele of Columbus, state president; Mrs. Robert C. Hazelbaker of West Union state treasurer; and Mrs. Paul D. Fairley of Greenfield, State 4th vice-president. The chapter has two new members, Mrs. Heber Deer and Mrs. David Sheidler. Mrs. Sheidler was unable to attend. Three papers have been sent in and not yet proved are Mrs. Robert D. Coffman, Mrs. Charles Ellis and Mrs. Karl Kellenberger, who were present. Other guests were Miss Hazel Core of Chillicothe and Mrs. Harry Bell of Washington C.H.

Mrs. Loren D. Hynes, organizing president, told of the founding of the chapter, and of the choosing the name Major Samuel Myers, and of receiving the charter on June 30, 1956. There were 54 charter members. This has always been the largest chapter in the state. There are now 46 members, and the group hopes to add four by the end of 1974.

Mrs. Hazelbaker and Mrs. Fairley made a few brief remarks. Mrs. Steele, guest speaker, chose for her subject, "Which Way." "Which way is America going? Is America in a decline? Is America at low ebb? Is America Standing still? Is there no progress? Surely in Technology and medicine there is some advance," she said.

She asked if people today were more concerned with their own comfort than with the needs of the nation? Does one gripe about paying taxes because one wants money for his own use? Do people think excuses to avoid serving in community projects, or even public office? Should not each citizen forget his pet peeve, his special interest and take a good long look at America? What is good in America? What nation is better-fed, better-clothed, better-paid, better-entertained, and in better health than America? Which way should America go? The answer is "UP", she said.

"Many years ago a group of dedicated men forged a tradition of courage and heritage of liberty, that has not, cannot, and will not be denied." To preserve this heritage is the work for the Daughters and all citizens. Citizens have the resources, the education, the manpower and the freedom to attain unprecedented achievements; the power to expand the greatness of America, to strengthen the role as the bulwark of democracy as the forefathers intended.

Now is the time to start thinking about America-time to start thinking about what is right with America. The tradition has been to make things happen. It is time to show the world that one can still make things happen, that America is still going up - that there is no ceiling, no end in sight for the greatest country in the world. This is the mission of the Daughters. Where is America going? "UP".

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Walter Parrett, D. of 1812 president on November 11.

Bridal shower held for Miss Woodmansee

On Monday, members of the kitchen committee and helpers of the United Methodist Women of Grace Church under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Gatewood, assisted by Mrs. C.L. Lewellen, Mrs. Kenneth Warner, and Mrs. William Clarke, gave a kitchen shower for Miss Tove Woodmansee, bride-elect of Mr. Daniel Albert. Fellowship Hall was the setting.

The event began with a bounteous carry-in luncheon served "kitchen buffet" style on the pantry counter. The participants then seated themselves at three tables, each of which was decorated with dahlias, ageratum, and sweetpeas in blues, reds, and wine-colors arranged in "vases" of stainless steel mixing bowls surrounded by greenery. The head table, in addition, had two large white paper wedding bells topped with a few flowers.

After the fellowship of the luncheon, the bride-elect, assisted by her sister, Miss Wendy Woodmansee, began to unwrap kitchen shower items wrapped in original and creative ways such as a knapsack on a stick, a bride doll carrying a bouquet (made of dish towels, gold scratcher, soap and pipstems), a package wrapped in a bright-colored grocery ad and rough twine, and a package wrapped in paper doilies and paper daisies, with a poem attached. Gifts included all sorts of kitchen utensils, cans of spices, a bag of white sugar and one of brown sugar, and even such things as pincers, hammer, and nails - to mention only a few. Miss Woodmansee was outstandingly gracious.

Following the amusingly wrapped individual gifts, the group presented a skillet, saucepan, and pot of Revere ware to which Miss Woodmansee responded with many thanks. It was an afternoon to be pleasantly remembered.

Grain production estimates slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government crop analysts prepared today to issue new estimates of 1974 grain production, including updated figures on the drought-battered corn crop sorely needed to help rebuild consumer food supplies next year.

Shudders were felt around the world a month ago when the Agriculture Department forecast that the corn crop — the main U.S. grain for feeding meat animals, dairy cows and poultry — would total less than 4.97 billion bushels, 12 per cent less than last year.

Moreover, the August report was far less than USDA had projected last spring for 1974 corn production. Then, based on an assumption that farmers would harvest normal yields from more acres, the department said a crop of 6.7 billion bushels was likely.

The new report, to be issued at 3 p.m. EDT today, was based on surveys made the first of the month. Besides new estimates for corn, it will include updated forecasts for soybeans, wheat, cotton and other crops.

Although some private forecasters have predicted recently that corn and soybean production will be up from August indications because of widespread rains the past month, USDA officials indicate those increases will not be great.

Further, the new estimates are based on indications as of Sept. 1. Since then, unseasonable cold weather has intruded into the Corn Belt and raised the threat that killing frosts may reduce corn and soybean prospects further.

Too much rain in the Midwest last spring delayed corn and soybean plantings, making those crops vulnerable to early freeze damage.

The department said Tuesday in a weekly weather report that the corn crop is behind normal in all major producing states. The crop in Iowa was 25 per cent mature enough to be safe from frost by last weekend, compared with 35 per cent normally on the date, the report said.

The Illinois corn crop was also 25 per cent safe from frost, less than one-half the usual maturity of 52 per cent by early September.

As a result of reduced yields from late maturity and summer drought, grain prices have gone up in recent weeks, an indication it will be more costly to feed cattle, hogs, poultry and dairy cows through most of 1975 at least.

The full effect of the reduced harvest has been tempered, however, by indications from Japan and Europe — the major foreign buyers of U.S. corn — that livestock and poultry production there will be scaled down in the coming year.

Consequently, USDA officials say, less feed grain will be needed from the United States, meaning that more will be available to American consumers than otherwise would be the case.

New laws simplify absent voter data

COLUMBUS — Ohio voters are reminded by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown that recent changes in the election laws simplify application for absent voter ballots.

According to Brown, the application no longer needs to be in any particular form. The voter may apply on the new-prescribed Form 11-A, available at all county boards of elections, or he simply may provide the board a letter requesting ballots.

If the prospective voter applies to the board of elections by letter, he must provide sufficient information to indicate that he is eligible to vote absentee. The letter should include the applicant's name as it is carried on the board of elections' records; the election for which the ballot is requested (the November 5 general election); his voting residence (street and number, if any, or rural route and number) and name of his city, village or post office, as well as his county of residence and school district.

IN ORDER to be eligible to vote an absent voter ballot, the applicant also must list the reason for his request, such as being 62 years of age or more; planning to be absent from the county on election day; planning to be confined in a hospital on election day; being unable to vote on election day for religious reasons; being employed by the secretary of state or by the board of elections; being a polling place official; being on active duty with the organized militia of Ohio; or being confined in a jail or workhouse, under sentence for a misdemeanor or awaiting trial on a felony or misdemeanor, on election day.

Brown said the application, whether by letter or on Form 11-A, must be received not later than 12 noon on Saturday, Nov. 2, except in the case of medical emergencies, which then are due by 3 p.m. on election day. Armed service voters have until 7:30 p.m. election day to make application. Once absent voter ballots have been marked, they must be returned to the board of elections either by mail or personal delivery by the voter not later than 7:30 p.m. election day.

Earl W. May, 31, of Greenfield, was fined $50 after he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication filed by Sheriff's deputies.

Federal pay raise really necessary?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's deferral of a 5.5 per cent pay boost for federal employees has drawn a fusillade of protest from labor, and shapes up as a major test of his persuasive powers with Congress.

Ford has postponed the scheduled Oct. 1 raise until Jan. 1, thereby saving the federal payroll $700 million in the name of fighting inflation. Federal employees unions want Congress to restore the original date.

Beyond that, such groups as the National Federation of Federal Employees, the American Federation of Government Employees and the National Treasury Employees Union are lobbying for a larger boost. Most are united behind an AFL-CIO proposal of 8.4 per cent.

Their reasoning centers on an inflation rate hovering around 12 per cent, plus government surveys showing increases in private industry wages of 6.3 to 7.1 per cent—surveys which are six months out of date.

Under the Federal Pay Comparability Act, Ford's delay of the pay hike—affecting 1.4 million civilians and 2.2 million military employees—can be overturned by a simple majority in either the House or Senate.

As president, Richard M. Nixon succeeded in postponing similar boosts for two successive years, but his third try in 1973 was overturned by the Senate.

"As far as federal employees are concerned, President Ford is a second-hand Nixon," says Nathan Wolkow, president of the 120,000-member National Federation of Federal Employees. "Ford had the opportunity to prove to the career service that he really cared ... but he blew it. He showed he really doesn't understand."

Vincent Connery, president of the 50,000-member Treasury Employees Union, vowed "a rather massive protest" to Congress. The law allows 30 days for Congress to act, and Sept. 30 is the deadline.

Already the wheels are turning. Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, has introduced a resolution to overturn the delay.

joined by Sens. Frank Moss, D-Utah, J. Glenn Beall, Robert Dole, R-Kan., and Mike Gravel, D-Alaska.

Chairman Gale McGee of the Senate Civil Service Committee is sympathetic, and has set hearings on the proposal. The Wyoming Democrat believes both that the increase should be higher and that it should come Oct. 1.

Even Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a frequent critic of inflationary federal spending, has endorsed an October implementation. So has Senate Majority Whip Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va.

While the federal bureaucrat can point to a number of statistics to show that his standard of living is slipping, there is still evidence aplenty that this lot isn't all that bad compared to other American workers. For example:

—A comprehensive survey by the Commerce Department showed that in 1973 the average salary for the federal civilian worker, including blue-collar jobs, was $13,000. In private industry it was $8,900.

—A Civil Service Commission survey of 12 leading private employers showed that none provided better fringe benefits than the federal service. Most notable in that area is the government's pension plan. It provides the retired worker up to 80 per cent of his salary, with guaranteed cost of living protection. While that's four to five times better than Social Security, the cost to the worker is about the same.

—A Library of Congress report showed that while average military pay was $6,587.14 a year, a factor which tends to lower the salary averages government-wide, the man in uniform collected thousands in supplementary advantages. These included $1,440 for housing, $598 for food, $473 in federal tax benefits, $831 for "special items" such as hazardous duty, clothing and proficiency, $770 for medical care, $98 in commissary and exchange discounts and $1,266 in retirement credits.

The salaries of federal workers began a dramatic surge during the Kennedy administration in an effort to attract better-qualified applicants. In the past decade, the civilian branch has received a dozen substantial raises, and boosts for the military, particularly since its conversion to an all-voluntary force, have more than quadrupled pay levels in some cases.

The result is that while the entire government payroll, including the now-independent Postal Service, has remained static at about 5 million employees, the cost has more than doubled to $60 billion.

AFS purpose amplified

The tremendous value of foreign exchange student programs by the good will and friendship they build was personified at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club Tuesday in the Country Club.

Helen Knorrek, of Wimsbach-Neydharting, Austria, the American Field Service foreign exchange student at Washington Senior High School during the 1971-1972 school year, was the guest speaker and amplified the true purpose of the program.

HELENE KNORREK

HELI, as she is known to her friends here, is revisiting Fayette County with the Walter H. Seifried family, Flakes Ford Road.

The 13th foreign exchange student at Washington Senior High School spoke of her stay here in 1971-1972 and told Rotarians that she "thought I'd never be back."

Quite ironically, however, Heli and the Seifried family have kept in close contact since the Austrian girl left here almost two years ago.

Although Heli is now attending college in her homeland and majoring in physical education and English, she

When Mr. and Mrs. Seifried traveled to Finland to bring their daughter home last July, they did so via Austria where they visited with the Knorrek family.

Mr. Knorrek is a bakery owner and travel agent and the two families spent the bulk of the visit hop-scotching around Austria.

However, the relationship between the families did not end with the Seifried's visit to Austria.

When Heli returned to Fayette County in early June, her mother came also. Since that time her mother has returned to Austria and Heli is scheduled to depart later this summer.

THE MEETING was conducted by club president Paul Crosby. He announced that the next Rotary Club meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Sam Marting's cottage since the Country Club staff will be vacationing.

The program chairman for Tuesday's meeting was Fred Domenico and the program was arranged by Rotarian Walter Seifried.

Student guests were Kevin Blair, of WSHS, and Kurt Neff, of MTHS. Visiting Rotarians were Wade Pierce, of Cincinnati, Robert Call, of Circleville, William Halberger, Berne, Ind., and Jerry Ardrey, Pete Tullis, Clyde Archer, Robert Redman and Frank Hilderbrant, all of London. Guests were Lloyd Rhoad with his son, Elton Rhoad, Don Bailey with David Ogan, Mrs. Seifried with Seifried and Pete Whiting with Dr. William Limes.

Miami Trace Band Boosters hold organizational meeting

The Miami Trace Band Boosters met Monday so that new members could meet the officers (elected last year) and select committee members.

Mrs. Doris White, president, introduced the other officers. They were Mrs. Nancy Jenkins, vice president; Mrs. Doris Kiger, secretary; Mrs. Ann Thompson, treasurer; and Mrs. Aloma Krieger, reporter.

The group discussed plans for their Ham and Turkey Dinner to be held in the Miami Trace cafeteria from 11:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. Sept. 29. The public is invited to attend the fund-raising luncheon, and carry-out service will also be available.

Mrs. White asked all committee chairmen for the dinner to meet for a final planning meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 18 at the school.

Aaron Spaulding, band instructor, reported that the Miami Trace Marching Band will participate in a parade at Orient State Institute Wednesday, Sept. 11.

The boosters selected members to serve on the ways and means committee. They are Phil Grover, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Will Braun, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roush, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pendleton and Mrs. Ruth Eltroth.

The next regular meeting of the band boosters will be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 8 in the music rooms at Miami Trace.

Sohio sets $1 billion oil terminal

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The Standard Oil Co. says about $1 billion will be spent to carve a shipping terminal out of bedrock at Valdez, Alaska at the end of the Trans-Alaska Pipeline.

Sohio said Tuesday storage tanks will be built on wide pads carved out of the mountainside on the 1,000-acre site.

The tanks will be placed 400 to 500 feet above water level, permitting gravity flow of oil to sea-going tankers.

When the terminal goes into operation in 1977, there will be 18 storage tanks. Ultimately, there will be 28 to 32 storage tanks with total capacity of about 16 million barrels of crude oil, Sohio said.

The oil company estimates that when the pipeline production hits two million barrels per day, an average of 18 tankers per week will shuttle oil to the West Coast of the United States.

Sohio said Alyeska Pipeline Service Co., which is directing construction of the terminal for a consortium of eight oil companies, will have a work force of 2,500 working at Valdez at the peak of construction.

Panthers gear for home opener

By LARRY WATTS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

"If we expect to win this week, we will have to eliminate our sloppiness and those unnecessary penalties," reflected Panther coach Fred Zechman, as Miami Trace prepares for its home opener against Columbus Bexley.

Miami Trace opened its season with a 24-6 victory at Springfield Northeastern, last week. However, 10 penalties for 120 yards killed several drives and kept the Panthers from breaking the game wide open.

"Against the Jets, we thought our running game looked good," Zechman pointed out. "However, the pass protection was less than adequate."

Miami Trace compiled 224 yards rushing in the contest against Northeastern. Fullback Jeff Sagar, who is 5-foot-10 and weighs 177 pounds, was chosen as the Panthers' offensive player of the week for the 116 yards he gathered in 22 carries.

Sports

Wednesday, September 11, 1974

Washington C. H. (O.)

Quarterback Tom Riley had an excellent night in the passing department, as he connected on six of nine aerials for 69 yards. However, most of the time Riley was under a heavy rush from the Jets' defense, as the Panthers' offensive line failed to give him enough protection several times.

"Overall, we were happy with the play of our defense," Zechman added. "Except for the two mistakes on pass coverage, the secondary turned in a good game. The play of the defensive line varied from average to top notch."

Junior linebacker Greg Cobb was selected as the team's defensive player of the week. He accumulated 18 defensive points. Cobb came up with six unassisted tackles, two of which were behind the line of scrimmage, and two assisted tackles.

Bill Brundage and Don Dunton were praised for the best hits of the week in the Northeastern game. Brundage, was recognized for a trap block he threw from his tackle position on offense. Dunton, a linebacker on defense, caught one of the Jets for an eight yard loss on a screen pass.

In preparing for the Lions, Zechman noted that some of his top players have been fighting a bout with influenza this week. Sagar and Dunton have both been hit by the bug, while quarterback Riley has been fighting the flu since early last week.

Bexley brings a big and strong team into Miami Trace. Bexley's defense averages nearly eight pounds more per player than Miami Trace's offense. The Lions' offense averages almost seven pounds better per player than the Panthers' defense.

The Lions should keep the Panthers' defense awake both for the run and the pass. Tailback Steve Marr, who is 5-foot-10 and weighs 177 pounds, is the main ball carrier and he returned kickoffs for 70, 45 and 22 yards and a punt for a 45-yard touchdown in last week's loss. Quarterback Jim Betz, who suits in at 6-foot and 175 pounds, is regarded as an excellent passer and his favorite target is split end Steve O'Brien, who is 6-foot and 160 pounds.

"Our defense has to be ready for Marr's running and Betz' passing," Zechman continued. "The secondary can not afford to give up mistakes like they did on Northeastern's touchdown last week."

"We are also working very hard with our specialty teams," the Panther mentor said. "The punt coverage against Northeastern left much to be desired."

Bexley's front line on defense is very solid. Three of the Lions' front four are 225 pounds or better.

One of the biggest advantages for the Panthers' offensive unit will be its quickness. Should Sagar and Riley, who gained 38 yards in nine carries, not be healthy; halfback Tom Pfaff could get the call on more occasions. Pfaff rambled for 62 yards in 18 carries against Northeastern.

Zechman and his crew are not hoping for a repeat of last year. In 1973, after opening with a win over Northeastern, the Lions defeated the Panthers 12-0 at Bexley.

In addition to Friday's variety contest against Bexley, the Panthers also have two other games scheduled with the Lions this week. Thursday, a freshman game is slated for 4:30 p.m. at Miami Trace. Saturday, the reserve teams will meet at Bexley at 10 a.m.

Tight race seen in AFC West

By The Associated Press

This season the American Football Conference Western Division is expected to be a two-horse race between the Oakland Raiders and the Denver Broncos.

The Kansas City Chiefs, who used to win or place in this race, have finished out of the playoff money since 1971. This year, their veterans may be a little wiser, but also a big year older.

Last year, a handful of San Diego Chargers allegedly failed their dope test and, although the new regime of Coach Tommy Prothro says that slate is now clean, the Chargers still don't have the horses to mount a serious challenge in 1974.

Oakland Raiders

The Raiders, after their seventh division flag in eight years, have three quarterbacks to get them there. But one is moving on to the World Football League in 1976, the second is moving on to the WFL in 1975 and the third is moving on in years.

Ken Stabler is leaving Oakland for the Birmingham Americans in 1976. Daryl Lamonica will play with the WFL football a year sooner. And George Blanda will cross off his 47th birthday during this season.

Blanda's age is really not a factor anymore because he's basically a place kicker now, and a very competent one. However, the defections of the other two could cause some morale problems.

There will be no hard feelings, however, if Stabler can duplicate last season's statistics. The Oakland left-hander completed an amazing 62.6 percent of his passes and threw for 14 touchdowns, winding up as the AFC's leading passer. He surrendered only 10 interceptions.

Wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff was fourth in the conference with 48 catches and 660 yards, Mike Siani, at the other wide receiver spot, grabbed 45 passes for 742 yards and tight end Bob Moore rang up 34 receptions for 375 yards.

Marv Hubbard, who bulled his way past the 900-yard barrier in 1973, and the speedster Charlie Smith and Clarence Davis, who combined for over 1,200 yards, are excellent alternatives to the pass.

The Raider defense, which allowed the fewest points in the club's history in 1973, may get a boost from Bubba Smith, former All-Pro end who was sidelined much of last year with a knee injury. Smith showed he is regaining speed when, in preseason play, he blocked one conversion kick by Philadelphia's Tom Dempsey and deflected another.

Denver Broncos

Denver Coach John Ralston concedes the Broncos was the division's best club in 1973, with his team only four points behind.

"The Raiders are still our measuring stick of excellence in the AFC West," said Ralston, "and they were just four points better than us in two games. Those four points put them into the playoffs instead of us."

Ralston thinks this year he has found those four points and then some.

"There's no question in our minds that we have the people on the 1974 squad to go all the way," said Ralston.

The people Ralston is talking about go by the names of Johnson, Moses, Odums and Little, to list a few.

Charlie Johnson is 38 years old and a 13-year veteran, which means he knows a thing or two. However, Johnson, who completed 184 of 346 passes with 20 touchdown tosses, underwent post-season knee surgery.

Tight end Riley Odums led Denver with 43 catches, good for 629 yards and seven touchdowns. Deep threat Haven Moses caught 28 passes, eight for touchdowns.

Floyd Little was a threat coming out of the backfield with the ball or as a would-be pass receiver. Little rushed for 979 yards and 13 touchdowns.

Ralston picked Ohio State's Randy Gradishar to plug a leak at the linebacker position and off his preseason play against the Falcons Sunday night, the Broncos came up with a winner. All-Pro tackle Paul Smith and defensive end Lyle Alzado are strong pass rushers.

Kansas City Chiefs

Birthdays are not cause for celebration in the Kansas City camp.

The Denver Broncos caught up with the Chiefs, 7-5-2, last year. Age however, has been creeping up on the Chiefs for several seasons.

The Chiefs managed 231 points last year, third worst in the conference. At 39, Lenny Dawson doesn't seem to have any more magic in his arm. He's still listed as Kansas City's top quarterback, even though he missed eight games last season with an assortment of nagging injuries.

Reserves Mike Livingston and Pete Beathard are not the kind of quarterbacks who lead teams into the Super Bowl. And although rookie David Jaynes might be, it takes NFL quarterbacks three or four seasons to learn the ropes.

Ed Podolak was a workhorse in the Kansas City backfield, gaining 721 yards on the ground and catching 55 passes for another 445 yards. Fullback Willie Ellison rushed for 411 yards.

Rookie speedster Woodie Green, the Chiefs' No. 1 draft choice from Arizona State, cracked his collarbone in a pre-season game.

Otis Taylor, once one of the league's most dangerous longball threats, has apparently lost a couple of big steps. He caught 34 passes for 565 yards and four touchdowns last year.

The Kansas City defense, ranked fourth in the NFL, has kept up with the times, however.

The front four of Marvin Upshaw, Curley Culp, Buck Buchanan and Wilbur Young is still a respected bunch as is the linebacking crew of Bobby Bell, Willie Lanier and Jim Lynch.

San Diego Chargers

The San Diego Chargers last year had an offense ranked 19th in the NFL, a defense that was rated 22nd and a football team that was wrecked by charges of widespread drug usage.

Aging quarterback Johnny Unitas has traded in his hightop shoes for a broadcasting seat in the press box. That puts the pressure on second-year pro Dan Fouts and rookie Jesse Freitas.

Fullback Cid Edwards rushed for 609 yards last year in 133 carries. He also was second in receiving on the club with 25 catches worth 164 yards.

Robert Holmes had 289 yards and seven touchdowns.

Jerry LeVias heads the receiving crew with 30 receptions for 526 yards. Tight end Pettis Norman and No. 2 wide receiver Gary Garrison contributed just 27 more receptions between them.

Title Holder wins Jug Preview race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Title Holder raced three quarters of the mile on the outside Tuesday night and still beat some of harness racing's most glamorous 3-year-old pacers.

"I felt I had a tough colt, but I didn't realize he could race this well parked out," said Tom Brinkerhoff, who drove Title Holder to a surprising victory in the $26,000 Jug Preview at Scioto Downs.

"I didn't figure I had it won until the last 100 feet," Brinkerhoff said after his horse equalled the track record with a 1:57 4-5 mile.

Victims of the stunning trip were Boyden Hanover, who already has won one leg of pacing's Triple Crown this year; Peter Lobell and Keystone Presto.

Boyden Hanover finished third behind Title Holder and Pickwick Baron, but driver George Sholtz seemed unperterbed.

"I thought my colt raced well. He closed well. There were no problems," said Sholtz, whose 3-5 favorite is expected to enjoy the same status next week for the Little Brown Jug, the second jewel of pacing's Triple Crown, at the Delaware (Ohio) County fairgrounds.

Why did Brinkerhoff elect to race the winner so long on the outside?

"I was in the sixth post position and I knew it would take 28 seconds to win the last quarter. I didn't figure I could catch them," he said.

So Brinkerhoff put Title Holder on top near the three-quarter mark and the son of 1965 Jug victory Bret Hanover withstood Pickwick Baron by one-half length.

Boyden Hanover finished one and a half lengths behind.

Title Holder's seventh straight victory assured him a spot in the Jug next Thursday, according to Brinkerhoff.

Title Holder, a 12-1 longshot, returned $27, $12.20 and $3.80. Pickwick Baron, driven by Mel Turcotte, paid $9.60 and $3.40, and Boyden Hanover, $2.20.

Title Holder's performance equalled the track pacing record previously shared by Osborne Creed and Jay Time.

Keystone Presto, considered the powerhouse of Billy Haughton's three-horse entry, finished fifth. Peter Lobell, winner of the Horseman Futurity at Indianapolis in 1:57 4-5, broke stride and finished 10th.

Yanks nip Boston on Johnson's shot

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Alex Johnson, acquired just Monday from the Texas Rangers, went to work on Tuesday night in a New York Yankee uniform and hit a gamewinning home run.

"You have to get lucky sometime," said Johnson after his 420-foot belt in the 12th inning brought the Yankees a dramatic, 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The tremendous blast gave the Yankees a two-game lead over both the Red Sox and Baltimore Orioles in the hot American League east race.

The Orioles lost a 6-5, 10-inning decision to the Milwaukee Brewers to fall into a secondplace tie with the Red Sox.

In Tuesday night's other American League games, the Cleveland Indians bombed the Detroit Tigers 12-6; the Minnesota Twins beat the Chicago White Sox 8-7 in 15 innings and the California Angels trimmed the Kansas City Royals 8-2.

Johnson's game-winning blast, his fifth homer of the baseball season, came off reliever Diego Segui, 7-7. The victory went to Pat Dobson, 16-14, who won his sixth straight game with last-inning relief help from Sparky Lyle. Dobson gave up four hits in 11 innings.

The Yankees tied the game 1-1 in the ninth inning on a walk to Lou Piniella and a double by Chris Chambliss.

Brewers 6, Orioles 5
Sixto Lezcano singled home a run in the 10th inning to give Milwaukee its victory over Baltimore.

Johnny Briggs walked to open the Milwaukee 10th and moved to second on a bunt sacrifice by Bob Coluccio. Lezcano then singled to right to score Briggs with the game-winner.

Indians 12, Tigers 6
Cleveland reached Detroit's Mickey Lolich for five runs on six straight singles in the second inning and went on to beat Detroit.

Lolich, who had won his four previous decisions against Cleveland this season, retired the leadoff batter in the second inning before Buddy Bell, Joe Lis, Frank Duffy, Angel Hermoso, John Jeter and Gamble singled. That put Cleveland in front 6-2 and chased Lolich, 16-18.

Twins 8, White Sox 7
Rod Carew walked, stole second and scored on Larry Hise's single in the 15th inning to give Minnesota its victory over Chicago.

Angels 8, Royals 2
Joe Lahoud drove in five runs to lead California over Kansas City. Frank Tanana, 11-17, was the winner with relief help from Orlando Pena.

NFL squads make final player cuts

By The Associated Press

Some agonizing hours of suspense are over. Some National Football League careers are over.

And some are just beginning. Tuesday's exodus from NFL training camps resembled the mass departure of tourists from their last weekend of summer vacation. With uncertain futures ahead, nearly 100 players — who missed that key block, dropped that clutch pass or fumbled once too often — left pro locker rooms for the last time.

No respect for the past was shown as coaches pared their rosters to the 47-player limit. One-time stars joined one-time scrubs in the classless society of the also-ran.

Running back Leroy Kelly became the fourth most productive rusher in NFL history with the Cleveland Browns. But the Browns put him on waivers early this summer and Kelly latched on with the Oakland Raiders.

But even he couldn't cut fast enough to avoid the biggest tackle of all Tuesday. Although the Raiders' policy is not to announce squad cuts, a list of 14 departures was compiled from men absent from Tuesday's practice.

Kelly's empty locker was silent evidence.

Green Bay Packers veteran center Ken Bowman, the team's player representative and an outspoken voice in the players association strike, was placed on the injured reserve list due to a back injury and won't see action this year.

The last of the original New Orleans Saints and another player rep, guard Del Williams, retired after he lost his job.

Ten-year veteran quarterback Pete Beathard suffered a similar fate at Kansas City's camp, but immediately signed with the World Football League Portland Storm. Another quarterback

Gullett fans 11 in 5-2 victory

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Reds Manager Sparky Anderson, marveling at the performance of Don Gullett in beating the San Diego Padres 5-2 Tuesday night, juggled his pitching order to throw the lefthander against Los Angeles Saturday night.

"Don will be much more effective against the Dodgers at night," said Anderson.

Gullett was delighted with the news. "I want another chance at them. The whole club does. I think we can do it. Pitching with three days rest I'll be sharper, but maybe not as strong."

Gullett, 16-10, was beaten by Los Angeles in the series here, 3-1.

"I was especially surprised by my curve ball," said Gullett after fanning 11 Padres batters. "It was really breaking sharply and my fork ball was the best I ever had."

"So that's what it was," said the Padres' Willie McCovey, who struck out twice. "Gullett was as sharp as I've ever seen him."

The victory gave the Reds a sweep of the two-game series with San Diego, which has only won nine of its last 45 games.

"They are so demoralized," said the Reds' Pete Rose, "they look defeated before the game starts." Rose had six hits in the series.

Cincinnati has an 11-4 record against the Padres, while Los Angeles is 11-0 against them with seven games left. The Dodgers still lead the Reds by 3½ games in the National League West.

The Reds jumped on Joe McIntosh, 0-2, in the first inning when Tony Perez drove home Cesar Geronimo in the first inning. Darrel Chaney scored on a wild pitch in the next inning after hitting a triple. Ken Griffey's two-out double in the third scored Perez in the third.

Gullett gave up his 19th home run to Randy Elliott after retiring the first eight batters. It was Elliott's first major league clout.

"It felt real good," said Elliott, "I'm just sorry we didn't win."

In the sixth, Griffey scored on Rose's double to right and Gullett scored on Geronimo's sacrifice fly.

John Grubb singled in the ninth for the Padres, scoring Enzo Hernandez, who had doubled.

The Reds, with home attendance now at 1,986,758, expect to go over the two million mark tonight when they host the Atlanta Braves.

It will be the last appearance here this year of Henry Aaron. The Braves will send Phil Niekro to the mound. The Reds scheduled Clay Kirby.

Lou Brock has made good on his promise to the fans of St. Louis.

Brock, who had said he wanted to break Maury Wills' stolen base record before the home fans at Busch Stadium, did just that Tuesday night, stealing second base in the first and seventh innings to boost his season total to 105 — one more than the standard set by Maury Wills in 1962.

"I'm glad to get it over with, although I'd have liked it to be during a winning game," said the incomparable Brock, whose Cards were beaten 8-2 by the Philadelphia Phillies.

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh beat Chicago 12-4, Los Angeles blanked Atlanta 1-0, Cincinnati beat San Diego 5-2, Montreal defeated New York 6-4 and San Francisco edged Houston 6-5 in 11 innings.

Wills said he had mixed emotions about seeing his record broken, but hailed Brock's outstanding performance.

"My hat's off to him," the former Los Angeles Dodgers' infielder said. "I never thought anyone would approach the record this soon, probably not in my lifetime."

The thefts came during the Cards' 142nd game and Brock's 134th. Wills stole his 104th base in the Dodgers' 165th game of the 1962 season.

After leading off the first inning with a single, he broke for second on the second pitch by Philadelphia right hander Dick Ruthven and easily beat the throw from catcher Bob Boone, which bounced into center field as Brock went to third.

In the seventh inning, Brock again waited until Ruthven had an 0-1 count on Ron Hunt before streaking to second, once again well ahead of Boone's wide throw to the bag.

The thefts by Brock, who has been thrown out 29 times this year, also lifted him to 740 for his career, eclipsing the mark of 738 set by Max Carey of the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1929. Only Ty Cobb, who had 892, and Eddie Collins, who had 743, stole more bases during their major league careers.

Dodgers 1, Braves 0

Don Sutton blanked Atlanta on four hits to raise his record to 15-9 and Ron Cey drove in the game's only run with a single in the second inning.

Sutton ended the game by striking out home run king Hank Aaron on a sharp curveball.

Pirates 12, Cubs 4

Ken Brett, making his first start since injuring his elbow Aug. 6, tested his arm and his bat Tuesday and found both to be in good working order. He pitched the first six innings of the Pirates' 12-4 rout of the Chicago Cubs, and also rapped out three hits.

Richie Hebner contributed four hits to Pittsburgh's 20-hit barrage, including his 14th homer of the season.

Giants 6, Astros 5

Tito Fuentes broke a 4-4 tie with an RBI single and Bobby Bonds drove in what proved to be the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the 11th inning for the Giants.

The Astros came back with a run in the bottom of the 11th on Cliff Johnson's RBI single, but fell one run shy.

Expos 6, Mets 4

Willie Davis slugged a two-run homer and Larry Lintz drove in three runs with two singles to pace the Montreal attack as the Expos tripped the Mets.

Countdown begins

NEW YORK (AP) — The countdown has begun on what Muhammad Ali refers to modestly as "an event surpassing the moon landing."

In the final weeks of intensive training before leaving for Zaire, heavyweight champion George Foreman and challenger Ali displayed contrasting and highly individualistic approaches to their title fight on Sept. 24.

WFL opens 2nd half of season

By The Associated Press

With its two strongest teams facing each other, the new World Football League opens the second half of its rookie season tonight amid mounting concern about its weakest franchises.

Birmingham, 10-0, the WFL's only unbeaten team, will visit runnerup Memphis, 8-2, in a Central Division game between the clubs with the league's best records at the halfway mark in the 20-game season.

"This is the most important game of the year for us," said coach Jack Gotta of Birmingham, which beat Memphis 58-33 July 24 behind the sharp passing of quarterbacks George Mira and Matthew Reed.

In the other WFL games scheduled for tonight, it's Detroit at Florida, the Hawaiians at Houston, New York at Portland, Southern California at Chicago, and Jacksonville at Philadelphia.

Birmingham staggered past Chicago Saturday night when Earl Sark kicked a 34-yard field goal with 52 seconds left to give the Americans a 41-40 comeback victory. They had blown a 38-19 lead.

Memphis breezed to a 45-0 triumph Saturday against the visiting Houston Texans when quarterbacks John Huarte, a veteran, and Danny White, a rookie, combining to throw five touchdown passes.

The Southmen are riding a five-game winning streak in which they have yielded only five touchdowns to their WFL opponents.

Chillicothe resident injured in accident

A young Chillicothe man was injured and cited for a traffic violation when he became involved in an accident Tuesday, Washington C.H. police officers reported, along with two other accidents. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported two investigated accidents, neither of which involved injuries or citations.

When Kenneth L. Roush, 19, of Chillicothe, attempted to pass another car in the 1000 block of S. Fayette Street at 7:17 p.m. Tuesday, he lost control and crashed into a utility pole, ricocheted off and struck a fence owned by Mary West, 1029 S. Fayette St., spun around 180 degrees and finally came to rest in a field, 500 feet south of the Elm Street intersection.

Investigating police officers stated Roush showed visible signs of injury at the accident scene and was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital by Kirkpatrick ambulance service, where he was treated for a scalp laceration and then released.

He was charged with reckless operation. Earlier in the day, at 1:14 p.m., a truck driven by L.B. Sexton, 51, Cleveland, ran over a manhole cover, damaging it and the pedestrian "walk" sign, while turning right off Court Street, onto S. Fayette Street.
